

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

M.E. RINKER, SR., BUILDING CONSTRUCTION SYLLABUS

BCN 5905	Special Studies in Building Construction	1-6 Credits	Varies
Prerequisites:	None

General

This is an elective, self-directed course for majors and non-majors who wish to investigate a specific area of building construction. This course may be repeated for credit with a change of topic.

Goal

The primary goal of the course is to provide students with research and / or course material in a specific topic of interest to the individual student under the advisement of an instructor who will monitor and assess the student's progress.

Objectives

Variable

Performance

Since this is self-directed study, there must be agreement between the student and instructor as to final products. The study must be substantially completed in the semester taken.

Text

Variable

Instructor

Building Construction faculty as selected by student