

Interdisciplinary Certificate in Historic Preservation

The ICHP allows Master's and Ph.D. students majoring in architecture, building construction, interior design, museum studies, anthropology, tourism, and other disciplines to learn the basics of historic preservation.

Each Master's student must take at least 4 courses (min. 12 credits) of historic preservation. Each Ph.D. student must take at least 5 courses (min. 15 credits) of historic preservation.

The following requirements apply:

- All students must take History and Theory of Historic Preservation (DCP 6710)
- All students must maintain a minimum grade of "B" in each course
- All remaining courses must be approved by the Historic Preservation Program Director

Preservation Institute Nantucket: Students can attend the off-campus Preservation Institute Nantucket summer program (Summer B), which accounts for 6 credits over 2 courses. More information on PIN can be found at: <https://dcp.ufl.edu/historic-preservation/research/pin/>.

Certificate Courses

DCP 6710	Fall	History and Theory of Historic Preservation	3
DCP 6711C	Fall	Built Heritage: History and Materials Conservation I	3
DCP 6712C	Spring	Built Heritage: History and Materials Conservation II	3
DCP 6714	Fall	Built Heritage Documentation I	3
DCP 6715	Spring	Built Heritage Documentation II	3
DCP 6943	Spring	Cultural Resource Survey	3
DCP 6716	Varies	Cultural Resource Management	3
DCP 6931	Varies	Special Topics in Design, Construction and Planning	1-6
DCP 6701	Summer B	(PIN) World Heritage Research and Stewardship	3
DCP 6718	Summer B	(PIN) Preservation Policy and Current Topics	3