Course Overview

Welcome to the first landscape architecture design studio! This course builds upon the fundamental principles of design covered in previous general design courses, and begins to explore the specific design aspects of landscape architecture. Site design problems incorporating a mixture of cultural, environmental, and historical topics provide a framework for students to develop their landscape architectural analytical skills, communication techniques, and general understanding of landscape design.

Course Objectives

The objective of this studio is to gain an understanding of the design process and to demonstrate clear design decision-making as it relates to the application of landscape architectural spatial vocabulary and design methodologies using the elements and principles of design.

Prerequisite Knowledge and Skills

Students are expected to have fundamental principles of design, preliminary site analysis skills, basic hand and digital drawing skills and basic knowledge of design precedents.

Students Learning Outcomes

Content Knowledge:

- Demonstrate a clear understanding of the landscape architecture design process

Critical Thinking:

- Demonstrate an understanding of concept development through various stages of the design process
- Demonstrate an understanding of the relationship between program and site
- Demonstrate the ability to think conceptually
- Demonstrate an understanding of spatial formation using landform, vegetation and structures

Communication:

- Demonstrate graphic, verbal and written communication skills

Teaching Philosophy

We are very passionate about teaching Landscape Architecture, and bring this enthusiasm into the classroom. We strive to teach with clarity, rigor and empathy. We have found great success in interactive teaching, where students are highly engaged and assist in teaching each other using a collaborative approach within the studio. Through mutual respect between teacher and students, we maintain high expectations for excellence in the students.

Instructional Methods

This studio is based on a combination of faculty presentations of new topics, seminar-like discussions, individual critiques and student presentations. Student work is frequently pinned up and the focus of group discussions. In this studio, special emphasis is placed on conceptual clarity and compositional strength. Students present final projects to a jury of outside faculty and/or practitioners.

COURSE POLICIES

Class Attendance and Participation

- The studio meets three times a week on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from periods 7-9 (1:55-4:55 pm). Attendance is mandatory. Two unexcused absences are permitted. Each additional absence will lower the student's grade 2%. Students are requested to contact via e-mail the instructor prior to the class they will be missing.
- Timely completion of all project requirements is expected. Late work will be penalized 5% per day. Students are required to turn in digital copies of their pin-up presentation and all final drawings and models. Failure to do so will result in an incomplete grade for the course.
- This is a studio-based course which means verbal participation is also required. Students must participate in class discussions, reading discussions, and critical review discussions.

Class Demeanor

- Studios are public places. The studio doors are locked, however, it is also suggested that you store any valuables under lock or bring them home with you.
- Cell phones must be turned off during class.
- Please respect other students work. Due to tight quarters, it is especially important to keep spaces and common spaces clean. Also be mindful and respectful of playing music and other audio.
- Many classes will include "critiques" at each student's desk. It is expected that your desk be orderly and you have a scale, a roll of trace, and your sketchbook available when the instructor arrives at your desk.

Journal/Sketchbook

You are expected to keep a weekly journal/sketchbook. As you begin your design career it is important to begin documenting ideas and thoughts. Many artists and designers keep their personal journals replete with ideas and thoughts. A sketchbook is a great way to keep track of creative ideas and to refine your thought processes. It also serves as a great resource for when you are short on ideas. Don't feel constrained by what others think should be in your sketchbook. Make your sketches and notes about whatever you find interesting, be it an unusual object, an interesting face, a beautiful landscape, your design ideas, things happening in other classes, reflections on the week, etc.

Moleskin Softcover Notebooks with a grid lining (<http://www.moleskineus.com/moleskine-softcover-notebook.html>) are very good sketchbooks. You can get them at most Barnes and Nobles, the Student Center, or online. Other sketchbooks are great also - pick one that will be easy for you to use and to carry around!

Shop

Shop hours are 8:00 AM – 10:00 PM. All students are required to complete a shop orientation program. No power tools or spray paint, or the use of any other sort of aerosol spray, are allowed in the Architectural Building except for the spray booth found in Room 211 of Fine Arts C. Students found in violation of this policy will be referred to the Dean of Student Services for disciplinary action.

Submission of Student Work

All student work may be retained and used by the Department of Landscape Architecture. Digital copies of student work for this course must be turned in at the completion of each assignment. No grades will be computed into the final course grade until digital submissions have been turned in as requested. Please follow the directions given by the instructor as to how they will be submitted (Sakai, CD, PDF, word file, etc.). In cases of clay, built, and/or other 3-D models, digital JPG photographs should be submitted.

All files must be named as follows:

(Course#Name)(Project+Description)(Student-Lastname).(jpg)

Example:

2360PrincLADiagPlnGurucharrir.jpg

4ch 8ch 8ch 6ch (ch = letter characters)

- Use CAPS for Separation
- Save images in JPG format at a maximum 200 resolution
- No spaces, hyphens, or underscoring
- Drawings submitted incorrectly or in an incorrect file format will be rejected and you will need to resubmit.

Texts, Software and Other Resources

This course will utilize the UF's e-learning CANVAS site. Relevant course material will be posted to this site. It is expected that you will login into and check-in on the site periodically and to retrieve course resources and required readings. This course will have required readings and it is expected that all assigned readings will be completed and students will be prepared to discuss the readings at the beginning of the class. Other recommending readings may be posted over the course of the semesters and it is encouraged that students complete these readings as well.

There is no required book for this course, however, the following books are recommended for this class and most will be available at the Architecture and Fine Arts (AFA) Library on course reserve. UF POLICIES

Student Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Academic Honesty

The University requires all members of its community to be honest in all endeavors. When students enroll at UF they commit themselves to honesty and integrity. The faculty of Landscape Architecture fully expects you to adhere to the academic honesty guidelines you signed when you were admitted to UF. In completing the registration form at the University of Florida, every student has signed the following statement:

“I understand the University of Florida expects its students to be honest in all their academic work. I agree to adhere to this commitment to academic honesty and understand that my failure to comply with this commitment may result in disciplinary action up to and including expulsion from the University.”

Furthermore, on work submitted for credit by all UF students, the following pledge is either required or implied:

“On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.”

It is to be assumed that all work will be completed independently unless the assignment is defined as a group project by the professor. This does not mean that students cannot help one another in learning material, but all work that is turned in must be independent work of that individual.

Misrepresentation or plagiarism, such as claiming another’s work to be one’s own, refers to graphic, images, and design work as well as written work. Submitting work from one course to fulfill the requirements of another (unless expressly allowed by the instructor) is also misrepresentation.

The University Honor Code and the Department of Landscape Architecture Academic Honesty Policy are to be followed to the letter. Any students found to have cheated, plagiarized, or otherwise violated the Honor Code in any assignment will be punished according to the severity of the act and may be referred to the Honor Court. It is each student's responsibility to report any infraction, and it is expected that each faculty will report all infractions as well.

For more information, see <http://www.chem.ufl.edu/~itl/honor.html> and the Department of Landscape Architecture Academic Honesty Policy.

Netiquette: Communication Courtesy

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions and chats. or a description of what is expected and what will occur as a result of improper behavior see <http://teach.ufl.edu/docs/NetiquetteGuideforOnlineCourses.pdf>.

Audio/Video Recordings

Our class sessions may be audio visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

Religious Holidays

The university calendar does not include observance of any religious holidays. The Florida Board of Governors and state law govern university policy regarding observance of religious holidays. Students shall be excused from class or other scheduled academic activity to observe a religious holy day of their faith with prior notification to the instructor. Students shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up the material or activities covered in their absence. Students shall not be penalized due to absence from class or other scheduled academic activity because of religious observances.
