Course Description

This project-based course introduces multidisciplinary approaches for the identification, documentation, preservation, and interpretation of significant heritage sites, and includes the preparation of a National Register Nomination.

Course Objectives

- Understand the process for identifying, documenting and evaluating resources for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places
- Understand the principles of determining significance and assessing integrity of a resource
- Apply the research findings to frame a narrative of the building's (or the district's) significance
- Gain experience in preparing a nomination to the National Register of Historic Places

Course Presentation and Requirements

Course content is presented in readings, presentations, guest lectures, field trips, and site visits. Course requirements include archival research, participation in onsite data-gathering, completion of assignments and coursework products, and final presentations.

Key Dates

Site visit 1 – January 27

Site Visit 2 – February 17

Midterm presentation – March 31

Final presentation – April 14

Assignments and Projects

Research and Writing Assignments

Participants will develop and build upon weekly research assignments related to course content and present findings in class using PowerPoint and narrative report format. This work will contribute to the final course work products.

Semester Project

Each participant will prepare a draft nomination for a resource to the National Register of Historic Places. Work tasks include review of archival research, field work and data-gathering, site visits, documenting resources through photographs and maps, assessing resources against NPS criteria, understanding and expanding context statements, developing resource descriptions, assessing integrity, and preparing statements of significance.

Course Work Products

All work produced in class is property of the University of Florida Historic Preservation Program. The Instructor will keep copies of all participants' work products.

COURSE POLICIES

Attendance, Class Expectations and Make-up Policy

Attendance in class and participation for site visits and field trips is mandatory. More than two unexcused absences will result in the final grade being dropped one letter. Requirements for class attendance and make-up assignments are consistent with university policies. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog and require appropriate documentation. Additional information can be found here:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>

UF POLICIES

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Student Conduct Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Honor Code

<https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/> specifies behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Student Privacy Considerations

Some class sessions may be audio-visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Netiquette Communication Courtesy

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions, and chats.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.
