Course Communication:

The instructor is available during office hours or via e-mail at clcarri@ufl.edu for personal questions. Please allow 24-48 hours for a response during business hours only (M-F 8am-5pm).

For general course questions, students may ask during the live class, visit office hours, or send an email through Canvas.

Course Description

The field of Historic Preservation is multi-faceted and filled with both experts in the profession and stakeholders passionate about seeing their past represented. Key for the professional is the ability to first understand the needs of the stakeholder and then apply their knowledge and skill set to effectively convey the desired message. Communication may take the form of written publications, exhibits, websites, oral histories, presentations, and posters. Whatever the medium, a well-rounded professional has the tools to educate, advocate, and inspire.

The course will provide the opportunity for students to address real heritage advocacy needs with projects benefiting non-profits and community stakeholders. Applications covered will include ArcGIS StoryMaps, InDesign, Photoshop, Illustrator, and video editing. Students will also gain exposure with collecting oral histories, community preservation advocacy, and discussing the application and ethics of AI in this setting. Combined, these will provide the student with a toolkit of written, oral, and visual communication skills to take into the profession or further into academia.

Course Objectives

- To learn the principles and elements of effective design
- To gain a basic understanding of Adobe Photoshop, InDesign, Illustrator, and Premiere Pro, among other programs
- To practice using these tools for visual, oral, and written communication

- Gain and enhance the graphic design and online platform development skills to share place-related research with the public.
- Develop professional skills for the advocacy of historic preservation and related fields
- Learn how to communicate to a variety of audiences
- Learn how to provide and receive constructive design feedback

Skills, Devices, and Software to Learn

- Foundation of graphic design in typography and color
- Adobe InDesign, Photoshop, Illustrator, and Premiere
- Canva
- ArcGIS StoryMaps
- 360 degree virtual tours
- Conducting and processing Oral Histories
- Oral presentations
- Written communication

Course Pre-Requisites / Co-Requisites

There are no pre-requisites or co-requisites for this course.

Class Format

Typically, each week, the Wednesday class will introduce the week's topic and the instructor will demonstrate the concepts and skills to be covered. Wednesdays will also allow time for group discussion and occasional guest lecturers. The Thursday class will allow for students to apply Wednesday's lesson in the computer lab and allow for questions, feedback, and critique.

Canvas

It is your responsibility to regularly check this course's Canvas site. Course readings, any lecture slides, other materials (e.g., assignment instructions), and important announcements will be provided via Canvas. All work must be submitted via Canvas unless otherwise specified during class. Grades will be posted via Canvas.

- In the case you have technical difficulties with Canvas, please contact the UF Help Desk at learning-support@ufl.edu, or (352) 392-4357 - select option 2, or go to Ground floor of the Hub. If your technical difficulties will cause you to miss a due date, you MUST report the problem to UF Help Desk before the due date/time. Include the ticket number that you are given in an e-mail to the instructor to explain the late assignment due to problem with Canvas.

Types of questions that should be directed to the Help Desk:

- I cannot log into Canvas
- I have clicked on the "submit" button for my assignment and nothing is happening
- I cannot upload an assignment

- Canvas has given me an error message and I cannot submit my assignment.
- Poor internet connections cannot be accommodated with a ticket from the UF Helpdesk.
- The instructor reserves the right to accept or decline tickets from the UF Helpdesk based on individual circumstances.
- An introduction and support for the E-Learning in Canvas system can be found at: https://lss.at.ufl.edu/help/Student_Faq

Assignment Submissions in Canvas

Anytime you submit an assignment, presentation, or homework please name it as follows: mylast-name_myfirstname_assignmentname.docx or .pdf or .pptx. Assignments must be submitted online through Canvas by 11:59pm on the due date as the file type specified. Please note: only the latest attempt will be graded.

Required Textbooks and Trips

- There are no required textbooks for this course.
- Course material will be on e-learning/Canvas, including readings, lecture slides, assignments, announcements, and grades (<https://elearning.ufl.edu/>).
- The course may include on campus or in-town field trips during our outside of class hours. This will be discussed with the class beforehand.

Required Software

The general familiarization and application of Adobe InDesign, Photoshop, Illustrator, and Premiere Pro are essential to this course. However, it is not expected that you purchase this program. Lab time in the classroom on Thursdays will provide access to the Adobe suite. If you require extra time outside of class, you can purchase the discounted subscription mentioned below or visit the open labs on campus. Additional programs used in this course are free and web based.

Optional Software

Access to Adobe Creative Cloud Discounted for Students (Adobe offers Creative Cloud for $77 for 6 months for students) To get started, visit: <https://helpdesk.ufl.edu/software-services/adobe/>

Open Labs on Campus

If at any point you are having issues or need more time with Adobe CC outside of class, you should plan to use the open labs on campus. Issues with programs accessed on your personal computer will not be accepted as an excuse for late or missing assignments! The Adobe Creative CC Suite is on all Academic Technology computers. All computers in the Architecture, Marston, CSE, HUB, Norman, and Weil computer labs are equipped with this software. <https://labs.at.ufl.edu/>

Materials and Supply Fees

Material and supply fees (M&S) are assessed for certain courses to offset the cost of materials or supply items consumed during instruction. A list of approved courses and fee information is available from the academic departments or the Schedule of Courses (UF-3.0374 Regulations of the University of Florida; Florida Statutes 1009.24). You can find more information at <https://registrar.ufl.edu/soc/>.

The total M&S for this class is $0.

Course Presentation and Requirements

Course contents are presented in PowerPoint presentations, class discussions, guest speakers, and computer lab training sessions, among others. Course requirements include participation in class discussions and training and the completion of assignments and presentations on time.

A Note on Team Work

For team assignments, you are expected to abide by the Honor Code, plus conduct yourself in the following manner:

- Be a good team member.
 - Be on time. Be respectful. Be responsive with group communication.
- Participate and contribute equally in each assignment.
 - If there are problems with group dynamics or participation/effort levels, please talk to the instructor.

Attendance Policy, Class Expectations, and Make-Up Policy

Attendance is mandatory for all class sessions, including labs, discussions, and field trips. Regular attendance is crucial for effective learning and participation. Students must arrive on time and stay for the entire duration of instruction. Advance notification and documentation for any absence is required.

Failure to bring assignments, repeated lateness/early departure, and unexcused absences can result in grade reduction. More than three unexcused absences will result in the final grade being dropped one letter. You are expected to come to class on time, prepared, and ready to participate.

Late submissions of assignments are subject to a penalty unless valid, documented reasons for an extension are provided in advance. Late assignments will incur a 10% grade reduction for each day they exceed the original deadline. Extensions will only be granted under exceptional circumstances and not beyond one week past the initial deadline. Technical issues like computer malfunctions are not valid grounds for extensions. Ensure regular saving of work. Extension requests must be negotiated in advance and supported by appropriate documentation. The original deadline remains unless a new date is mutually agreed upon.

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies. Click here to read the university attendance policies.

If you notice yourself having trouble in the course, it is crucial that you see the instructor immediately. Please feel free to approach the instructor about any concerns or comments you might have about this class.

Work Product

All work produced in class is property of the University of Florida Historic Preservation Program. The instructor will keep copies of all participants' work product.

Classroom Climate

Equitable participation in this class requires the use of inclusive language, methods, and materials. Students are expected to use inclusive language in written and oral work, and to respect diversity in viewpoints expressed by others. Students are also encouraged to identify language, methods, and materials used in this course that do not contribute to an inclusive classroom climate.

Netiquette Communication Courtesy

All members of the class are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all email messages, threaded discussions, and chats. More information can be found at: https://www.cise.ufl.edu/wp-content/uploads/2019/08/CISE_Netiquette_Guide.pdf

Class Demeanor

Students are expected to arrive to class on time and behave in a manner that is respectful to the instructor and to fellow students. Please avoid the use of cell phones and restrict eating to outside of the classroom. Opinions held by other students should be respected in discussion, and conversations that do not contribute to the discussion should be held at minimum, if at all.

In-Class Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or guest lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Student Privacy Considerations

Some class sessions may be audio-visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live (with proper absence documentation). In the event that a Zoom session is offered, students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. When class is not being recorded it is expected that all students will have their cameras on and communicate orally. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

If recording occurs in the classroom, the same above applies. It will be announced to the class beforehand if it will be recorded and you may tell the instructor then that you do not wish to be in the recording. A place to sit out of camera view will be provided.

In the event that photographs are taken while in class or on a field trip, permission will be asked before by the instructor of all students. If you do not want to be photographed, you will be kept out of frame.

UF Policies

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class.

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Student Privacy

There are federal laws protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments. For more information, please see: <https://registrar.ufl.edu/ferpa/>

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

Course Schedule and Assignments

This is largely a skills-based course that surveys multiple communication programs and methods. In the brief timeframe of a semester, it will be difficult to master in depth all of the resources, but the student will learn the basics of each topic and how to apply them to advocacy scenarios in historic preservation and the surrounding fields.

The course is broken into four modules which cover visual, oral, and written communication. After learning each topic and practicing in class, students will have a weekly skills quiz or mini project to demonstrate their understanding. The midterm project will demonstrate the combined skills learned in the Visual Communication module. The final project will utilize all or most of the skills learned this semester into one ArcGIS StoryMap as a means of advocacy through the Digital Humanities. The focus of your project will be informed by your research of community needs and with the guidance of the instructor.

Schedule Note and Disclaimer

The syllabus and the details of the course schedule are subject to change as the need arises. All changes will be notified during class times and through email and Canvas announcements.
