PURPOSE OF COURSE

The course explores design innovation in interior design and allied fields. Impacted by individual, social and environment factors, design innovation surfaces in creative personality traits, processes, products and environments. Through the study of precedent as well as theories of creativity and space, this course will examine innovation at play in contexts ranging from the workplace to healthcare and learning environments. Further, we will study spheres of design influence in the world through new building forms as well as in creative adaptations.

To delve into the study of innovation, this course will focus on the design engagement framework with impact markers as well as other creative theories and cases. In particular, narrative inquiry, will be explored as a vehicle for examining innovation since it provides some access into the mind of the designer and creative process. Further, we will examine creative processes such as memorable spaces and places offering purposeful and imaginative solutions necessary for the world in which we live. Narrative cases will be studied throughout the course, not only to better understand creativity in individuals, but will reveal team dynamics, client interactions, and end user perceptions inherent to design innovation.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

This course fulfills a “Humanities” (H) general education requirement at the University of Florida.

Student Learning Outcomes facilitating an understanding of the humanities:

Students are able to recognize the influences (and potential biases) of individual, social, and environmental factors on definitions of design innovation.

- Students are able to learn from precedent when studying design innovation in the context of interior design and allied fields.
- Students are able to understand creativity and design innovation from different perspectives and sometimes competing worldviews.
- Students are able to analyze and interpret design narratives on innovation using frameworks and theories.
- Students have awareness of methodologies from narrative inquiry and evidence-based design to understand the value and assessment of creativity and design innovation.
- Students are able to apply precedent and theory in a design intervention in the built environment in which they design, observe and communicate their process and results.

Student Learning Outcomes facilitating an understanding of the interior design discipline¹ (CIDA Standards):

STANDARD 4. GLOBAL CONTEXT Interior designers have a global view and consider social, cultural, economic, and ecological contexts in all aspects of their work:

¹ Students successfully completing this course will demonstrate an awareness of fundamental design concepts and issues, thus broadening their understanding of innovation within the context of interior design. Discipline-specific learning outcomes for this course support selected accreditation standards (2018) established by the Council for Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA).

- 4b) Student work demonstrates an understanding of how social, economic, and cultural contexts inform interior design.

STANDARD 5. COLLABORATION Interior designers collaborate and also participate in interdisciplinary teams:

- 5a) Students have an awareness of the nature and value of integrated design practices.

STANDARD 6. BUSINESS PRACTICES AND PROFESSIONALISM Interior designers understand the principles and processes that define the profession and the value of interior design to society.

Students have an awareness of:

- 6c) the breadth and depth of interior design's impact and value.

STANDARD 7. HUMAN-CENTERED DESIGN Interior designers apply knowledge of human experience and behavior to designing the built environment.

- 7b) Student work demonstrates the understanding of the relationship between the natural and built environment as it relates to the human experience, wellbeing, behavior, and performance.

STANDARD 11. DESIGN ELEMENTS AND PRINCIPLES Interior designers apply elements and principles of design.

- 11a) Students understand the elements and principles of design, including spatial definition and organization.

STANDARD 12. LIGHT AND COLOR Interior designers apply the principles and theories of light and color effectively in relation to environmental impact and human wellbeing.

- 12b) Students are aware of the environmental impact of illumination strategies and decisions.
- 12e) Students have awareness of a range of sources for information and research about color.
- 12f) Students understand how light and color in the interior environment impact health, safety, and wellbeing.

Student work demonstrates understanding of:

- 12g) color terminology.
- 12h) color principles, theories, and systems.

STANDARD 13. PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS Interior designers complete design solutions that integrate furnishings, products, materials, and finishes.

- 13a) Students are aware of the influence of furnishings, objects, materials, and finishes on human environmental wellbeing.

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

QUIZZES All quizzes are comprised of 15 multiple-choice and/or true/false questions. Each quiz draws from course presentations, videos and assigned readings to assess student knowledge of the content presented each week. The timed quizzes are each worth 15 points. Quizzes are administered through the "Assessment" tool on Canvas e-Learning.

REFLECTIONS Students are required to complete a written reflection (200-250 words) about an aspect of the course content presented in assigned lessons or readings. Each reflection is worth 10 points. Students will submit their completed reflections through the "assignment" tool on canvas e-learning.

BREAKING BOUNDARIES PROJECT At the start of the semester, the instructor will assign students a topic to explore and present in an original presentation (5-6 minutes). Students will work individually to complete this assignment worth 30 points. This project affords an in-depth look at a focused area of design innovation and creative trends within different market sectors. Students will upload their completed Breaking Boundaries project through the "Assignment" tool on Canvas e-Learning for review.

MAKE A DIFFERENCE PROJECT This project is adapted from an IDEC challenge to encourage students nationwide and beyond to use their creativity to make daily existence better for human beings (or other living things) or the earth. At the start of the semester, the instructor will facilitate the creation of groups to complete this team project (unless the instructor has given instructions to work individually). This project provides students with the opportunity to develop a real-life design solution and apply the design thinking process introduced in lectures. Essentially, the project involves:

- Finding a real-life problem that could be made better through some type of design intervention.
- Developing an original, functional, and meaningful design solution, either temporary or permanent.
- Assessing their final prototype concepts and opportunities for refinement.²

² This project is adapted from the Interior Design Educator's Council Social Responsibility Network's project inspired by Bryan Bell, founder of Design Corps, a non-profit group dedicated to world betterment through design. The idea is simple, but potentially profound.

Utilizing the provided Design Thinking Canvas template on the online tool Miro, students will upload their process work files and their Final Make a Difference project presentation through the “Assignment” tool on Canvas e-Learning for review at different milestones.

This project will require students to make multiple online meetings with team members throughout the semester.

PARTICIPATION Students are expected arrive to class on time, remain in class for the duration of instruction, and attend every scheduled class period. Engaged participation is critical to the success of this course, and therefore students are expected to be focused throughout the class period, participate in discussions and activities, etc. that arise during class time. Some modules may also contain discussion posts and informal module activities that count towards the participation grade. Lack of engaged participation can result in a deduction from the participation grade.

A 5% deduction from the participation grade will be assessed for each unexcused absence. Prior notice and proper documentation (a doctor's note, signed waiver, etc.) is required to excuse an absence from class. The course instructor reserves the right to deduct participation grades for excessive (3 or more) tardiness.

MAKE-UP & ASSIGNMENT POLICY

Projects and assignments are to be turned in as specified. No projects will be accepted late except by special permission of the instructor. The quizzes must be taken at the scheduled times. You must notify the instructor before the quiz is scheduled if there are extenuating circumstances. Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>.
